“IT’S OKAY TO PLAY WITH YOUR FOOD!”

Fork & Cork Returns with More Experiential Opportunities for the Epicurious

Schedule of festival activities and participating restaurants, May 15 & 16, 2015 at Addison Circle Park

ADDISON, Texas --- Debuting last year as the premiere “foodie festival” in North Texas, Fork & Cork returns May 15 & 16, 2015 with more opportunities to learn, enjoy great experience food. Noshing on all the delicious bites, savoring craft beers and wines while strolling through the beautiful park, guests will enjoy fun activities, music and exciting experiences including fire pit cooking tastings straight from the pit with the king of “Smoke” Chef Tim Byres (Smoke, Chicken Scratch, and The Foundry), mixing it up with libation leader Eddie “Lucky” Campbell (Parliament), and cooking demonstrations from Chef John Tesar, Chef Richard Chamberlain, as well as other of Dallas’ best chefs.

Whether you’re savoring a bite from a hot new restaurant, striking up a conversation with your favorite chef around the fire, or experiencing grilling through a culinary icon – it all can all happen at Fork & Cork. Guests will enjoy beer, wine and food tastings, hands-on demonstrations and all-star entertainment on Friday and Saturday, May 15 & 16, at Addison Circle Park.
